BONN, Germany (AP) — Four ministers quit Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's shaky West German Cabinet today, refusing to approve higher taxes sought to pay for American arms.

The opposition Socialists immediately predicted that Erhard himself would be forced out.

The resignations were decided by the Bundestag members of the Free Democratic party. All four belong to this group.

Herbert Wener, deputy chairman of the Socialists, issued a statement saying a change in chancellors is long overdue. He added that his own party does not exist to fill up gaps — an indication that it will try to get a maximum price if asked to enter a coalition government for the first time since the early 1930s.

Many Christian Democrats favor such a "grand coalition" of the Socialists and Erhard's Christian Democrats, instead of the "little coalition" to which the resigned ministers belong.

3-Minute Limit on Vote Machine

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The only time more than one voter can be in a voting machine at the same time is when someone is physically unable to operate it, the attorney general's office said Wednesday.

Also, there is a three-minute limit for staying in the machine, the office told Carl McDaniel of Little Rock, chairman of the Pulaski County Election Commission.

Part of I-30 to Be Opened Near Texarkana

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Another 25 miles of Interstate highway will be opened in Arkansas before the end of the year, the state Highway Commission said Wednesday.

The new sections and date of opening: Eight miles of Interstate 30 in the Arkadelphia area around Nov. 1; six miles of Interstate 40 between Mayflower and Conway in late December and 11 miles of Interstate 30 between U.S. 71 and 87 in the Texarkana area early in December.

The commission also directed Highway Director W. E. Hicks to proceed with construction of a new White River bridge at Des Arc. The west approach to the span is finished and the next stage, costing about $800,000, will involve piers and the substructure.

Also, the commission allocated $18,000 for construction of 0.4 miles of road from U.S. 65 to Interstate 40 as an access to the Mayflower-Conway section.

The commission authorized, as funds become available, extension of Interstate 540 from the present termination at Arkansas 22 in Fort Smith to the Oklahoma state line south of Fort Smith. Hicks was directed to complete plans for the construction of 6.6 miles of highway sought for more than three years by the city and the state Highway Department.

Highway engineers were directed to construct on and off ramps to tie in Arkansas 315 and Interstate 40 in Johnson County.

The commission also approved junkyard screening projects,

University Seeks Full Cash Request

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. David Mullins, president of the University of Arkansas, told the Legislative Council Wednesday that the university needs more money than the Commission on Co-ordination of Higher Educational Finance has recommended.

The commission reduced the university's request by about $2.4 million for the second year of the biennium and by a smaller amount for the first year.

The university officials asked the council to restore several parts of the budget which the commission reduced, saying that most of the additional revenue requested would go for salaries.

Thus far this year, the university is the only state-supported school to protest budget cuts.

Religion Use in Politics Denounced

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — The use of "the language of faith" for political gain has been denounced in a resolution passed by the Ouachita Presbyterian Church, U.S.

The Rev. Gary Jones of El Dorado, clerk of the Ouachita Presbyterian, announced the action Wednesday, although it was adopted Oct. 11.

A resolution along the same lines was adopted earlier by the Washburn Presbyterian, which covers northwest Arkansas. The Washburn group's resolution could apply to Jim Johnson, the Democratic nominee for governor, even though it wasn't aimed specifically at him, a spokesman said.

Johnson has been criticized for his use of religion in his campaign speeches.

The Ouachita Presbyterian covers the southern half of Arkansas and the Northwest Arkansas Presbyterian covers that part of the state.

Jones is affiliated with El Dorado's First Presbyterian Church. He could not be reached for comment on the resolution.

Canada's Medical Bill Approved

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian government's controversial medical insurance bill was approved in principle Tuesday night by the House of Commons, but opposition critics indicated they will shower it with amendments to put off its final approval.

Dale M. Keedy, 41, a former resident of Hope, died unexpectedly of a heart attack, October 6, it was learned here today. He lived in Portland, Oregon. Mr. Keedy owned the Buick Agency when he lived here.

Bird Blamed for Forest Fire

MIO, Mich. (AP) — About 250 acres of the Huron National Forest went up in smoke — all because of a little bird.

The State Conservation Department and U.S. Forest Service burned the acreage near Mio Wednesday to provide a nesting ground for Kirtland's warbler.

The warbler is a rare bird that migrates to the Bahama Islands from the forests in Oscoda County, where it summers and nests in low, new growth of jackpine.

Two years ago, only about 1,000 of the warblers summered here, but the total appears higher now that modern fire-control methods have allowed the burning of forests to provide nesting grounds, conservation men said.

SWEET HOME EXTENSION CLUB

Friday, Oct. 21 the Sweet Home Extension Homemakers Club met in the club house with Mrs. Bill Bright as hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Carl Brown. "God Bless America" was led by Mrs. J.E. Ward, song leader.

Devotional was given by Mrs. Brown and led in prayer. Mrs. Thelma Warren gave a very interesting talk on family life. Mrs. Brown gave a good lesson on outside beauty.

Roll call was answered by thirteen members and one visitor. Old business and new business was discussed and the treasurer's report was given. The meeting was closed with the Homemakers Prayer repeated by all.

Refreshments of cake, cookies, and punch were served by the hostess, Mrs. Bright. The November meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Gladys Phillips.

BOOK REVIEW

A group of 20 heard Mrs. R. E. Jackson of Columbus review the book "Abby Aldrich Rockefeller" by Mary Ellen Chase at the home of Mrs. H. C. Whitworth on Wednesday, October 26. The story of a woman whose material wealth was equalled by her rich sense of humor was presented in a charming way.

The home held a pretty arrangement of celosia, both of yellow and red, in the living room. Mrs. Lynn Harris made an appeal to Democratic Women for Rockefeller for campaign assistance in the gubernatorial election.

From a dining table centered with zinnias and red votive candles, cake and coffee were served. Mrs. J. W. Branch poured.

CHAPTER, AE, P.E.O.

Mrs. Jim McKenzie's home was the scene of a meeting of Chapter AE, P.E.O. on Tuesday, October 25. Pink was the central color of floral arrangements that included mums and carnations.

The president, Mrs. Jewel Moore, Jr., had charge of the meeting in which a number of matters of business were discussed. Mrs. McKenzie and her co-hostess, Mrs. W. Y. Foster, served a salad plate and coffee to 19.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — "The Girl from U.N.C.L.E." on NBC early Tuesday evening featured a plan to blow a passenger ship to smithereens, had the hero whipped while chained to a post, had the good guys throw an evil old lady into a baking oven and disposed of the screaming heavy by electrocution.

In case that might seem gruesome, it should be noted this was a comedy show.

Sometimes, of course, violence is played straight, for drama, not laughs. A night earlier, for instance, the hero of ABC's "The Iron Horse" and a fanatic Indian spent most of the hour, wounded and with gore gleaming red on our screens, trying to kill each other.

These are but two examples of the most common ingredient in television shows, to be encountered almost every evening hour on any network. It is the kind of violence to which Luther Davis, a well-known television writer, objects.

Davis, who authors many of the "Run For Your Life" scripts and wrote the movie, "Lady in the Cage," calls this "nice, painless violence."

"It is so awfully clean," he explained. "Most of the time, they ignore the fact that any pain is inflicted. As a matter of technique, you can take the most violent episode you can think up and make it clean fun merely by pulling the camera back. If you take a long shot of a tank exploding in flames, you never see — perhaps you never even think about — the men who are presumed to be dying horribly inside it."

"The television trick is to separate the viewer from the victim," he continued. "That makes everything nice because it eliminates the sight of pain. 'I believe that if you are going to show violence, you should show it truthfully. You should show that if you fight with people, people are going to get hurt and feel pain. Can you imagine showing the aftermath of one of those vicious fights — with somebody's eye out of its socket? If you show gore, you should also show how ugly it is.'"

Davis is the producer of a Nov. 9 "Stage 67" show on ABC, a drama called "The People Trap." It deals with the population explosion 100 years hence with overcrowding and "the terrible frustration from compression and lack of human opportunity."

After 17 months, ABC has decided it has no more time for the soap opera, "A Time For Us" and will drop the afternoon serial in mid-December. It will be replaced Dec. 19 by "Dream Girl of '67" which will attempt to parlay the big ratings of assorted evening beauty pageants by having one five days a week. It will be a national elimination contest to find "the most marriageable girl" in America.

The white-faced gibbon can cover a distance of 40 feet in a single leap, and has been known to capture flying birds.

(NEA Telephoto) WALEAH Lujan, a Taos, Indian from Taos, N.M., is the new Miss Indian America. She was selected at the All American Indian Days pageant in Sheridan, Wyo.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, Captain J. T. West was a spunky man. Back in 1876 he retired from a successful Mississippi River Boating business and moved to Hope, (a cabin boy under him was a youngster named Samuel L. Clemens whom West nicknamed Mark Twain.)

In 1893 The Bank of Hope came into existence with spunky Captain West as its first president. Later known as the First National Bank of Hope, it still maintains the old rivermans aggressiveness and business intuition.

Since opening the doors of its new building at Second and Walnut in 1959, First National has almost doubled its customer deposits, and grown into a financial institution offering a full range of services to all Southwest Arkansas. Maybe it's because the Spirit of spunky Captain West is still there.

The sailfish, closely related to the marlin, is one of the most powerful fish of the open seas. Its dorsal fin, when enlarged, forms a sail-like superstructure. The fish can fold this sail into a groove on its back when swimming rapidly and can unfurl it when sunning itself, when breaking the surface or fighting a fisherman's line. Sailfish are capable of attaining a speed of 60 miles per hour for a short distance.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Today's column is of the scatter-gun type. It concerns both bidding and play. South felt that his hand was too strong for a stop below game after his partner's opening club and two no-trump rebid. He couldn't bid a mere three hearts. That rebid of his own suit would not be a force. A three no-trump or a four heart call would commit the hand and South had no sure way to know which of those two contracts would be better.

His three club bid was what is usually called an inferential force. In general, when your partner bids two no-trump any bid by you in a suit you have not mentioned previously is a one-round force. North's first thought was to go to three no-trump, but he had nothing in diamonds and did have two top honors in hearts, so he returned to three hearts. This solved South's problem about which game to bid. East won the spade lead with the ace. He noted that his partner's spade lead was surely a singleton. Most players would have immediately led a second spade and given their partner a ruff but East saw no reason to be hasty. It looked as if the spade ruff would leave his partner with no satisfactory card to return and that his only chance to beat the hand would be to find West with the ace of diamonds. This might cost an over-trick but East wanted a plus score, not a loss of game and rubber. He led his queen or diamonds. West's ace took care of South's king. A diamond return put East back on the lead with the jack and a spade ruff became the setting trick.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to Helen Help US!, this newspaper.

HIGH IQ ISN'T ENOUGH

Dear Helen: My IQ is 145, I'm told. It could be higher. I see no reason to sit through classes when I know everything the clods must learn through repetition.

High school was a drag. I skipped more often than I attended, and still got my grades. I started college, but the same old thing occurred: Dullness. Why, I can out-think the professors!

I quit and got a job. It was not a position. Very menial. I knew more than my bosses did. I couldn't keep on in something as demeaning as that. I had happened twice, and I fear for the future.

Now I am sure you will think me an intellectual snob, but I tell you it is very difficult for those with my kind of IQ to adjust. I know I am ready for a high salaried position, but the boobs who run things insist that I must conform with a college degree. Don't you agree people can succeed without one? — High IQ

Dear Helen: . . . Not with Your High IQ (I QUIT) background! If you are so brainy, why then don't you whiz through college in two years or less? Surely this couldn't bore you unless you're using your "Superior intellect" as an excuse for laziness. — H.

Dear Helen: What do you think a girl should do when she is going with this certain guy and then he has to go out of the state to work and while he's over there she dates this other boy and the friends of her boy friend find out about it but they say that they won't tell on her but anyway she doesn't trust them so what advice do you give if she really loves the boy she is going around with and doesn't want to lose him. — Needs Advice

Dear Needs: Tell him the truth — and do it in a letter filled with affection. . . and commas. . . and periods! — H.

VIET NAM MAIL FROM UNKNOWN NO LONGER ACCEPTED

Dear Helen: Please tell that girl who wrote about sending mail to "Soldier of the United States, c/o APO San Francisco" that this doesn't work any more.

I sent a letter as directed and it came back marked, "Return to Sender, This Mail No Longer Accepted by the Department of Defense."

We'd still like to write to servicemen. Any suggestions? — Mary

Dear Mary: I'm sorry you girls wasted your stamps (many did). But the Department of Defense evidently could no longer handle this kind of mail.

The best way to find a Viet Nam pen pal is still — in your home town. Most of you know at least one boy in service. Ask him to send you a list of fellows who are lonely for mail. — H.

Dear Helen: I go along with school principals who won't allow mini skirts — they're distracting, but get this: Our high school rule book says: "BOYS: Hair shall be crew-cut or acceptable standard style. For measuring purposes — When it is combed forward on forehead, it must not reach past the eyebrows and there will be no hair worn down on the forehead, no long sideburns." Big deal: cut it or cut out!

My hair is neat, trimmed and clean, but when I comb it forward it touches my nose. Is that anybody's business? — Limit Tester

Dear L.T.: Probably not, unless you make a test case out of it. . . And don't! Your principal has enough problems already, with the real long-hairs. — H.

Business Council Chills Government

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — As far as American industry is concerned, the Business Council is The Establishment.

Outside Washington, it is the least known of the major business organizations. In Washington, it is by far the most influential.

So there were ripples of concern in the administration when, at the council's fall meeting in Hot Springs, Va., last weekend, the first signs appeared of some slight strain in the long honeymoon between big business and President Johnson.

What is the Business Council, and why does its frown send a chill through the executive branch?

The council was the idea of Franklin D. Roosevelt. His aim was to mobilize the talents of the country's foremost businessmen in devising ways to lift the nation out of the Great Depression. It was made an advisory committee to the then Secretary of Commerce Daniel Roper.

By an enormous irony, this creation of the New Deal has become the inmost of in-groups.

Its membership roll is a roster of wealth, power and prestige.

And, since the council chooses its own new members, it has acquired the aspect of a self-perpetuating private club. Its gatherings are closed to press and public. When government men attend, they do so as invited speakers or guests.

There are 120 members, not counting about 60 who are "honorary," and the roll includes the top men of scores of the country's greatest corporations — Ford, Du Pont, GM, GE, U.S. Steel, Standard Oil, AT&T, Bank of America, you name it.

The council gives research and advisory services to more than a dozen departments and agencies, including the White House. Many members have taken government posts, some in the Cabinet. But the council has no official status whatever.

Its advice and good will are sought eagerly by bureaucrats, Cabinet officers — and the President.

President Johnson has wine and dined its members at the White House, danced with their wives, made speeches at their meetings, consulted them on grave decisions and appointed their members to tasks of honor and responsibility.

The council has reciprocated. Its leaders and members have supported him on problems ranging from taxes to the balance of payments. Many of them forsook their Republican labels in 1964 to vote for him and contribute to his campaign.

They considered that he "understood businessmen" — talked their language, shared their views on spending, cost reduction and balanced budgets.

Now they are concerned over inflation and rising wage demands. They fear a tax increase and a squeeze on profit made. So they want the President to do some ruthless budget-cutting.

It's a safe bet that he will, if he can.

Censured Bishop Asks for Views

By DAVE SCHULZ
WHEELING, W.Va. (AP) —

Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike, censured by his church's House of Bishops for "irresponsible" doctrinal statements, has asked the body for an investigation of his theological views.

Bishop Pike said he had no alternative other than to seek the inquiry.

The action, which needed the support of at least two other bishops, invokes a section of canon law which allows a bishop to call for an investigation if he believes "there are in circulation rumors, reports or allegations affecting his personal or official character."

The Rt. Rev. C. Kilmer Myers, Bishop Pike's successor in the Diocese of California, and the Rt. Rev. John P. Craine, bishop of Indianapolis, signed Bishop Pike's statement.

The next step is for Presiding Bishop John E. Hines to appoint a commission of not less than three and not more than seven bishops to determine whether the charges, if proved, would constitute a canonical offense.

There is no set time for Bishop Hines to appoint this commission.

The rumors, reports and allegations Bishop Pike felt were affecting his personal or official character included heresy charges formulated by the Rt. Rev. Henry I. Lufft, bishop of South Florida; conclusions stated in the wording of the House of Bishops' censure, and certain charges made by the bishop of Montana, the Rt. Rev. Chandler W. Sterling.

The censure of Bishop Pike came when the bishops voted 103-36 to adopt the report of a committee specially set up to investigate the possible presentment of charges against Bishop Pike.

The rebuke, while critical of some of Bishop Pike's statements and activities, specifically avoided asking for a heresy trial.

Highlights of public meetings along the campaign trail.

Actors Take Role in Calif. Politics

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Strangers in the night. Scuby duby doo. Strangers in the night."

Frank Sinatra was singing his latest hit song, not for the craps-shooters of Las Vegas, but for Democrats and other persons willing to pay from $3 to $10 for a "Night of a stars" at the Los Angeles sports arena. Other stars at the show last week were Joey Bishop, Danny Kaye, Trini Lopez, Dean Martin, Danny Thomas and Nancy Wilson, and their purpose was to raise money and enthusiasm for Edmund G. Brown's campaign for governor.

The swinging Sinatra group for the Democrats is countered by the folksier support among actors for the Republican candidate, Ronald Reagan. When Reagan appeared at home on the range of his Malibu Ranch for a 12-station telecast last week, he was accompanied by such homespun types as Walter Brennan, Buddy Ebsen, George Chandler—once grandpa on "Lassie"—and Andy Devine.

This autumn's outburst of political activity by actors is the greatest ever seen for a state campaign. The reason is both ideological and personal; aside from their political feelings, many actors feel strongly about whether one of their profession is or is not fit for high office.

The use of actors as political campaigners is a phenomenon of the radio-television era. Before 1932 the appearance of performers with candidates was rare outside of New York City. Al Jolson campaigned for Warren G. Harding in 1920.

Franklin D. Roosevelt sparked the real beginnings of political activities for actors. They admired his sympathy for the common man, his use of stars for "March of Dimes" campaigns, his own actor-like talent with his fireside chats. The war gave actors more awareness of their public responsibilities as they were called upon to entertain troops and support war bond drives and other causes. But some stars backed causes that proved to be unpopular in the postwar period.

PUSH-BUTTON FARMING may not be such a farfetched idea if technology continues the rapid pace of recent years in lightening the farmer's load. A new development is a remote-control system for tractors consisting of a transistorized radio transmitter, held by the farmer at left, and a receiver mounted on the tractor. Called "Tele-tractor IV," it is being demonstrated by the Ford Motor Co. in rural areas of Switzerland. At right, the farmer pushes buttons to put the driverless tractor through its paces in the field.

The McCarthy era demonstrated that political activity could damage an actor's career. Such stars as John Garfield, Judy Holliday, Edward G. Robinson and Jose Ferrer found they could not make movies unless they expiated for alleged leftist connections.

The fear of recrimination brought a 10-year decline in political activity in Hollywood. Many of the town's leading Republicans—Walt Disney, George Murphy, Dick Powell, John Wayne, Jeanette MacDonald, etc.—gave vocal support to President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Robert Montgomery became his television adviser. But the liberal wing was quiescent during the 1950s.

The youthful appeal of John F. Kennedy renewed the political give-and-take in Hollywood. He was the most show-wise of presidents, his father having been head of film companies.

The 1960 campaign revived liberal activity in opposition to the well-organized conservatives. The battle reaches a climax in the coming fortnight as stars argue before millions of Californians as to whether Ronny or Pat can do the better job as governor.

U. S. Trying to Delay Step Up of War

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will delay as long as possible any decision to step up the pace of the war in the Viet Cong-infested area of the Mekong Delta, U.S. officials indicated today.

Sources described present military plans for the delta in the southernmost part of South Viet Nam as quite modest. They said no immediate major commitment of U.S. ground forces in the area is expected.

Present plans call only for heavier support for the South Vietnamese and American joint army-navy river armadas aimed at blockading rivers and coastal areas and flushing out enemy units, officials said.

It has been widely reported that another U.S. combat division is expected to be sent to Viet Nam for eventual duty in the area known as the 4th Corps. It was learned that these troops, if committed, would be stationed in the area of the delta surrounding Saigon to the north — the area known as the 3rd Corps. Three U.S. divisions now are operating there.

Although some U.S. sources in Viet Nam have made it clear they think American fighting men are needed in much greater numbers in the 4th Corps area, Pentagon officials emphasized that a decision is being thoroughly weighed.

"High level decisions are now under consideration," one source said. "It's still a 50-50 proposition." He added that the political aspects of U.S. deployment there are being measured against these questions:

— "Do we want to speed the pacification program in the delta?"

It's progressing but more troops would speed it up."

— "Do we need control of the waterways, particularly in view of the delta's abundant rice crops?" In former years the 11,000 square miles of the delta produced 1.5 million metric tons of rice annually above the area's needs. That surplus no longer is available — a fact most sources consider an indication of the effectiveness of Viet Cong control there.

The number of Viet Cong in the delta is estimated at more than 80,000. In addition to this, U.S. military advisers say the Viet Cong are recruiting thousands of fresh troops from the delta's six million residents each month and sending them into other combat zones to fight.

There are now about 5,000 American advisers in the delta and one brigade of the 25th Division — normally stationed near Saigon in the 3rd Corps area — has conducted some operations there. Otherwise, the United States has held hands off thus far.

Greatest Travel Agency of All Time Is One Created by Memory

NEW YORK (AP) — The greatest travel agent is memory.

For every trip a person takes outside himself, he takes hundreds within himself.

No matter how cynical or calloused by time the human heart may become, it always likes to look back to a day when it was innocent and the world seemed always in springtime. Or, it likes to recall the experiences that gave it wrinkles — for hearts, like faces, do sometimes wear wrinkles.

Asleep or awake, the mind remembers and makes endless round-trip journeys to bygone times.

Memory's train is constantly calling. Let's board it now and see where it takes us. The journey is free. Just close your eyes and see if you can remember when—

Girls blushed when the drug-store cowboys on the street corner whistled and called, "Oh, you kid!"

The only women over 30 who held jobs outside the home were widows and old maids.

Every politician was afraid of the farm vote.

Most people were on a party telephone line, and some grandmas used to listen for the latest gossip while doing their evening knitting.

The first requirement of a good medicine was that it had to taste bad.

Saloons were popularly known as "poor men's clubs." You knew you were in a home of refinement if it had a Tiffany colored glass lamp in the living room and a bowl of artificial fruit on the dining room table.

A young fellow could become nationally known by playing football well at Harvard.

In small towns, lawyers always had their offices on the second floor. So did most dentists and doctors. It made for cheap rent, and they needed the money.

Only the well-to-do ate mushrooms. Why, a body might get a toadstool by mistake, and die of poisoning, for sure.

It was possible to live and die without ever having personally to fill out a single government form.

Every cemetery had a weeping willow, and an evergreen tree.

Most corporation presidents prided themselves on the fact they had been born on a farm and still knew how to milk a cow.

Middle-aged men got all the exercise they needed by cranking the family car.

The experts were sure that one-way streets would finally lick the problem of traffic tieups.

Babies got as much fun banging household pots and pans in their cribs as they now do out of playing with a $25 educational toy — and grew up just as smart.

Applesauce Cheese Pie Goes To A Halloween Party

While the small fry are out trick-or-treating, serve a pie that's perfect for an adult Halloween party. Applesauce Cheese Pie is delicious, with its spicy crust of crushed ginger snaps and its tangy, rich cheese filling. Garnish top with walnut halves and serve mugs of hot cider with a cinnamon stick stirrer. Here's how:

Applesauce Cheese Pie

26 Sunshine Ginger Snaps
1/2 cup melted shortening
2 eggs
2 cups creamed fine curd cottage cheese (1 lb.)
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour

2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1/2 cup heavy cream
1 can applesauce (8 1/2-oz. or 1 cup)
1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts
Several walnut halves

Preheat oven to 325° F. With blender or with rolling pin, crush ginger snaps into very fine crumbs (there should be 1 1/4 cups). Combine with melted shortening and press firmly and evenly over bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate, making a small standing edge; set aside. Add eggs, one at a time, to cottage cheese and beat well after each addition. Mix sugar with flour and 1 teaspoon orange rind and stir in cream. Beat well and pour into crumb-lined pie plate. Bake for 1 hour or until firm; cool. Combine applesauce, walnuts and remaining teaspoon of orange rind; spread on top of cheese filling. Garnish top with walnut halves and refrigerate until ready to serve. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Conference on

Vien Nam Ends

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia left for home today after a non-aligned summit conference which suggested a three-point plan for peace in Viet Nam.

Tito, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic said at the close of their conference Monday the only solution to the Viet Nam war is cessation of American bombing, withdrawal of all foreign troops, and including the Viet Cong as a main party in any peace talks.

RELIEF FOR DROUGHT AREAS?

CHICAGO (AP) — Giant nuclear-powered desalting electric plants may eventually solve drought conditions.

This is the finding of an Atomic Energy Commission study in drought regions, especially those in northern New Jersey and New York City.

Large dual-purpose electric power and desalt plants would be capable of producing upwards of 300 million gallons of fresh water daily.

They could supply standby capacity and supplemental water during a drought and also provide additional reservoirs of safe water during dry periods.

AN AMERICAN Marine rushes forward with a rocket round to be launched against a North Vietnamese bunker located just south of the demilitarized zone in Viet Nam. Action took place during a recent operation to secure positions near the zone.

Calls Demos Party of the Backlash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says "the Democratic party now nationally has become the party of the backlash." But Sen. Paul H. Douglas, a Democrat, says Republicans are trying to stir a backlash against him in the Illinois Senate race.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., warned white politicians against exploiting white backlash.

Nixon spoke in New York Sunday on a television interview program, Douglas was on another program from Chicago and Kennedy was campaigning in Berkeley, Calif., for Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Also in New York, Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., was accusing extremists of spending $12 million in congressional races to spread "hate and bigotry."

And a report Sunday night from the National Committee for an Effective Congress, which calls itself nonpartisan, said "right wing extremists have been able to collect over $12 million" for the congressional campaign.

Nixon said Democrats had become the party of backlash by refusing to disavow segregationist gubernatorial nominees Lester G. Maddox of Georgia and Jim Johnson of Arkansas, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama and open housing foe George Mahoney, candidate for governor of Maryland.

Nixon declared, "I don't know one Republican candidate who is riding the backlash."

Nixon acknowledged on the NBC radio-television program "Meet the Press" that some Republican candidates in the South are not integrationists but explained, they "are not racial demagogues. They are not trying to capitalize on the race issue."

Douglas said that in the Chicago area, "in many of the wards where it is thought there is a white backlash, the Republican precinct captains are spreading the word that I and the Democratic party are forcing the Negro upon them."

"Now it is being done quietly but it is being done very firmly," he said Sunday on CBS' "Face the Nation." "And I simply say that that is not my position. But I don't blow kisses to the segregationists." Douglas termed himself a racial moderate and said Negro extremists do not support him.

Douglas is running against Republican Charles H. Percy. Kennedy said Sunday "The backlash which masks hostility to the swift and complete fulfillment of equal opportunity and treatment, which denies the need to destroy slums, provide education and eliminate poverty — that is wrong, shameful, immoral and self-defeating."

Kennedy was on a two-day trip through California. He also defended academic dissent in his talk at the University of California's Berkeley campus, scene of past disputes over freedom of speech.

A Coat of Bright Paint Will Enhance Your Basement

By MR. FIX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A basement need not be expensively paneled to be attractive. Nor need it be left as the builder finished it just because a recreation room or some other basement room is not planned.

A coat of paint on basement walls will make the area attractive for both work and play and will brighten the basement at a minimum of expense and not too much work.

Painting a basement is no more complicated than doing any other room. Remember that you are painting over masonry surfaces which require special paint and certain preparation.

Aside from appearance, paint will make a basement

off. There are special masonry conditioners that you can coat over the wall to end the problem.

Scrub Mildew

Mildew should be scrubbed with a solution of household bleach and water. Repeat several times, rinsing with clear water in between and allowing to dry thoroughly.

Ordinary paints will not serve for covering masonry. They must be alkali-proof and must be permeable so that a slight amount of moisture can breathe through the paint without causing it to peel. Buy a paint specifically designed for this job. The likely types are Portland cement paints which are dry and must be mixed with water, or water-thinned latex paints. Read instructions carefully. Generally, the powder paints may be applied only over unpainted masonry or over coatings of similar paint. Surfaces must also be thoroughly wet and kept that way while you work.

Mix Carefully

Mix only what you can use immediately because the liquid form cannot be stored. Avoid contact on skin eyes because of the paint's lime content.

Latex paints may cost a little more but go on easier and are simpler to handle. Because they are not heavy they can be applied with a roller. So many advances have been made in formulating these paints that it is wise to shop around for one designed for your particular problem—mildew, moisture or what have you.

The same paint is not used for floors, and cement floor paints are not of the Portland cement, dry mix variety. Floor paints are especially formulated to withstand abrasion.

A coat of paint will brighten your basement.

drier. Heavy duty waterproof coatings will retard slight moisture and seepage. Major seepage, however, cannot be prevented from the inside. A properly constructed foundation will be waterproofed from the outside.

If there is a major defect in wall or floor, this must be corrected before inside surfaces can be refinished.

Assuming that walls are sound, preparation consists primarily of cleaning. Remove all dust and dirt and other foreign material. Use a brush and water, add detergent if dirt and stains are stubborn. Scrape away coatings that are flaking or peeling. Paint applied to loose material will fall off with falling particles.

New masonry is often beset with a condition called efflorescence. This is a powdery coating that must be scrubbed

Some Precautions to Take In Wearing Contact Lenses

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I tried a pair of contact lenses but after wearing them one day I had such pain I couldn't stand it. The optometrist then made me a smaller pair. Could they hurt my eyes while I'm trying to get used to them? What are the advantages of tinted lenses?

A—It takes two or three days to get accustomed to wearing contact lenses. If you plan to wear them, you should keep them in for eight to 10 hours the first day and 13 hours the second and third days. Don't try to work up to this level gradually.

Some persons, especially those with chronic conjunctivitis, cannot wear contact lenses. Persons who are past 50 are likely to have a hard time adjusting to them. They should not, however, damage the eyes unless (1) they are improperly fitted, (2) unhygienic methods are used to insert or remove them (never moisten the lenses with saliva as many people do), (3) they are worn too long at a stretch; it is especially important not to wear them during sleep, or (4) they are worn when there is an infection in the eye or in a dusty environment.

One disadvantage is that wearing contact lenses lessens the sensitivity of the cornea, so that an early infection that would ordinarily be painful is not felt until it has progressed to a dangerous stage.

Slightly tinted contact lenses are available in green, brown, blue and gray. Only those that transmit at least 92 per cent of the light that strikes them should be worn. About the only advantage they have over crystal clear (100 per cent light-transmitting) lenses is that when they are dropped they may be easier to find.

Q—I have colitis. About 10 days out of every month my stomach is flat but the rest of the time I fill up with gas. Can anything be done for this?

A—Unless you avoid the well-known gas formers—starchy vegetables, cabbage and Brussels sprouts—and control your tendency to have loose stools, no drug will help you. Antispasmodic drugs, mild sedatives and a diet with little or no roughage should benefit you. A new drug, methylpolysiloxane (Mylcon Silain or Phazyme) is recommended as a defrothing agent especially for persons who swallow excessive amounts of air.

Thursday, October 27, 1966

Q—My doctor is giving me Phazyme and Festal for excessive belching. Have they any detrimental side effects?

A—Festal is a mixture of digestive enzymes. Neither this drug nor Phazyme have any harmful side effects.

Voting Age Issue May Be Re-considered

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
WASHINGTON (AP) — A question asked often since enactment of the draft law is: If a young man of 18 can be required to fight and maybe die for his country, shouldn't he also be allowed to vote?
Michigan voters give their answer in the Nov. 8 elections, voting on a proposed constitutional amendment to lower the voting age in that state from 21 to 18.
Only four states now have a minimum voting age below 21. Georgia and Kentucky is 18, in Alaska 19 and in Hawaii 20.

The proposed Michigan amendment is one of several hundred questions to go before voters in various states in November, either as constitutional amendments or referenda. Nearly all states have one or more issues on the ballot.

Also in the field of voting laws are questions arising from the increasingly mobile nature of the United States population.

One result of this shifting about is that on election day, thousands are unable either to vote in the state they left or to meet the residence requirements of the state they have moved into.

Florida will vote on a proposal to amend its one-year residence requirement to allow otherwise qualified persons who have moved into the state to vote in national but not in state or local elections. The state reports its population increased by 2,000 persons a week last year. North Dakota has up for election a proposal to let new residents vote for president and vice president.

In Washington, one of a number of constitutional amendments to be passed on would permit otherwise qualified citizens to vote for president if they have lived in the state at least 60 days. The residence requirement now is one year.

Wisconsin has this referendum question: Shall the residence requirement for voting be reduced from one year to six months?

In Texas, a proposed constitutional amendment to be passed by the electorate would allow members of the Armed Forces to vote in Texas upon satisfying the residence requirements applicable to Texans in general.

This would bring the Texas provision in line with a 1965 Supreme Court ruling that members of the armed services who had become bona fide residents of Texas must be enfranchised.

The prior Texas practice limited voting by members of the armed services to those who had entered the service from Texas.

CHARMING—Cotton in a green and terra cotta provincial print heightens the French country mood of this small dining room. Matching green cotton bed point lines the coverlet and is used for a fringed table throw. Both fabrics by Cohama are stain-protected with Zepel fabric fluoridizer.

Withdrawal Plan Greeted in Silence

TOKYO (AP) — North Viet Nam and Red China kept official silence today on the Manila conference's troop withdrawal offer. Pravda and Tass discounted the proposal, and there were new calls for suspension of the U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam.

Neither Hanoi nor Peking broadcasts mentioned the communique signed Tuesday by the Viet Nam allies pledging to withdraw their troops from South Viet Nam six months after North Vietnamese forces quit the war.

Elsewhere, the communique brought a mixed reaction at the United Nations, disappointment in Tokyo, faint optimism in London and little excitement in Saigon, where it was viewed unofficially as offering nothing dramatically new.

In one move that might be interpreted as a possible clue to Hanoi's reaction, the Viet Nam News Agency today distributed a three-day-old statement by Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi.

Broadcast 16 hours after the communique and later repeated, it quoted Chen as saying: "The only way to settle the Viet Nam question is for the United States to withdraw all its armed forces from Viet Nam immediately so that the Vietnamese can solve their own problems by themselves."

In the first Soviet reaction, Tass said the conference communique showed that allied positions on Viet Nam "in essence remain the same."

The Soviet news agency said the withdrawal pledge "is surrounded with all sorts of conditions" and "not a word is said about cessation of American bombings of the territory of the Democratic Republic of (North) Viet Nam."

"The real aim of countries participating in the conference is the continuation and escalation of the aggression in Viet Nam," Tass said.

Our Daily Bread

Sliced Thin by The Editor
Alex. H. Washburn
If They're Angry
Now How Will They Feel January 1?

It would be small comfort to the angry housewives who are organizing boycotts against food stores across the country in an effort to bring down high grocery prices, to remind them that the worst is yet to come.

The boycotters blame the stores for high prices. The stores place the blame where it correctly belongs, on a profligate government, and ask the housewives to write President Johnson.

A government that goes on year after year spending more than it collects in taxes and building up fantastic public debt, has only one possible course of action — printing extra dollars, thereby inflating the currency.

We say to ourselves, "Prices are going up," when the truth is, "Dollars are going down." All the ordinary rules of living are reversed in the topsy-turvy world of inflation. Ordinarily we think of goods being measured in terms of dollars; but under inflation dollars are measured by goods. When inflation has made the dollar shaky and cheap true wealth, normally measured in dollars, is suddenly measured in terms of known worth — such as land, buildings, food, machinery.

That's where we are now, and the picture will definitely get worse before it gets better. It will get worse right after January 1, for instance, when the food processors and retailers have to meet the increase in the minimum wage from present $1.25 an hour to $1.40, with an additional increase to $1.60 the first of 1968.

This is a federal action, traceable directly to President Johnson and the Congress. The cost of doing business is increased, and prices will rise further to cover the extra cost.

Talking boycott is talking nonsense. The only thing that does make sense is to question the wisdom of your vote down through the years which supported a financially wildcat government.

The whole pattern of government finance is crazy. Government inaugurates public housing programs, using up money and labor at a time when the individual citizen can't find money with which to build a home, or borrow to construct it even if the money were available.

You've been reading warnings since this ever since the second Roosevelt administration, but the public debt has increased steadily for three decades — and if you've trouble today it's only your own fault.

I recognize that some people have given up hope of restoring honesty and sanity to government, but this writer is not one of them. It is an obligation of informed citizens to stand fast by the ancient principles of truth and honesty and justice, defending against the glib tongues of high-flying politicians.

It may be a rough and unpopular road — but in the long run it is the only road... if this republic is to endure.

Baptist Group Against Plan
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Harmony Baptist Association has resolved to oppose a recommendation that the Arkansas Baptist State Convention relinquish control of the Arkansas Baptist (Hospital) Medical Center at Little Rock.

The medical center trustees recommended the move to facilitate the seeking of federal funds for the center without fear of violating the Baptists' strong belief in separation of church and state.

The Harmony association, which says it represents almost 17,000 Baptists in southern Arkansas, said Baptist institutions "should be dependent on Baptist financial support" in meeting their financial needs.

Food Price Revolt Is Spreading

By HAL COOPER
NEW YORK (AP) — Organizations of housewives in rebellion against the cost of groceries sprouted like mushrooms today, threatening to make the MMFF, WOW, BCLLP, HELP and WASLP as familiar to headline scanners as NAACP, CORE and SNCC.

Williamsville, N.Y., had its "Women on the Warpath," Charlotte, N.C., the "Mad Mothers and Fighting Fathers," Louisiana the "Baton Rouge Women for Lower Prices," Colorado the "National Housewives for Lower Prices."

In the nation's capital it was the WASLP ("Washington Area Shoppers for Lower Prices"), in Wilmington, N.C., the OLPF ("Operation Lower Food Prices") and in Burlington, N.C., the BCLLP ("Burlington Citizens League for Lower Prices").

Said Mrs. David Kadow, a spokeswoman for WOW: "Our picketing is aimed at the food industry, not just the stores. We have to start where we deal."

In Waukesha, Wis., Mrs. Thomas Heyen, leader of a group which hasn't even chosen a set of initials yet, said: "We aren't blaming anyone, but we do want to find out who the in-between man is who is to blame."

Typical store reaction came from Tom Gregory of the Georgia Retail Association, who said: "We have no disagreement with the housewives. Prices are high. They're high on everything in the world — clothes, new automobiles, almost anything you can name."

"Inflation is spiraling. Our contention is that the grocery stores and food chains have a net profit of one to one and a half per cent on sales. If they cut prices very much, they'll be operating at a loss."

In Lexington, N.C., Mrs. Max Leffer, leader of an unnamed rebel brigade, had this to say: "We got one independent store owner to mark down prices on items we thought were too high. He followed two of us around the store and reduced prices we pointed out. A can of coffee was marked down from $1.19 to 89 cents. It can be done."

"I don't believe the stores can afford to drop their prices," pleaded Ted Walker, executive director of the Ozark Empire Grocers Association. "The housewife wants to be recognized, but food is taking a lower proportion of her income than five years ago."

Meanwhile, in Albuquerque, N.M., the "Housewives Encouraging Lower Prices" (HELP) announced the lifting of a store boycott, saying they had made their point.

A HELP spokesman said the girls called it off after driving the price of a pound of bacon down from 85 cents to 69 cents, a loaf of bread from 31 cents to 29 cents, half a gallon of milk from 56 cents to 49 cents.

Registration Now 699,083
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Auditor Jimmie (Red) Jones said Wednesday that voter registrations stood at 699,083 with eight counties unreported. The final eight counties will report before the Nov. 8 general election.

Hospital to Start Building
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The administrator of St. Vincent Infirmary here said Wednesday that construction on more than $7 million in improvements will begin early next month.

Sister Thomas said original estimates had placed the cost of the addition at $5 million, but rising costs of construction work and materials had raised the cost more than $2 million.

Social Security Hike Is Almost Sure to Boost Payroll Tax

By EDMOND LE BRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — If Congress enacts President Johnson's proposed broadening of Social Security benefits next year, specialists say the required revenue probably would be raised by increasing the rate of the payroll tax and by extending the wage base on which it is levied.

Officials say Social Security taxes could increase $68.40 a year for a worker earning as much as $7,800, and an equal amount for his employer.

This figure is based on the present calculations of Social Security officials of the financing expected to be needed. Details of the proposal continue to be worked out, and all final decisions are up to Congress.

As the specialists now see it, the base extension, from the present $6,600 to $7,800, would be permanent. The rate increase of two-tenths of 1 per cent each on employee and employer would, in a sense, be temporary.

As the periodic increases already built into the law became effective, they would overtake the first boost and the ultimate rate would not be higher than the one now scheduled.

How long the extra tax rate would apply would depend on when the benefits were made effective. Administration officials first spoke of a Jan. 1, 1968, effective date, but strong congressional sentiment for an earlier date developed and the administration seemed not inclined to fight it. Presumably the extra tax would coincide with the beginning of the benefits.

The Social Security payroll tax rate this year is 4.2 per cent each on employee and employer, up to the first $6,600 an employee earns. This means the maximum employee tax is $277.20.

Next year, if Congress does nothing to change present law, the rate would increase to 4.4 per cent on the same base, for a maximum tax of $290.40.

If the changes now being sketched were to become effective, officials say, the tax rate would go to 4.6 per cent and the base to $7,800 — either Jan. 1, 1968 or on some earlier date — for a maximum annual tax of $358.80. That would be an increase of $68.40.

Ruling Asked on Point in Registration
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court was asked Wednesday to rule on whether the voter registration amendment supercedes an older law permitting county election commission to pick absentee vote clerks.

Mrs. Howard Stephenson was appointed an absentee vote clerk by the Democratic members of the Searcy County Election Commission.

N. J. Henley, the Republican member of the commission; County Clerk W. N. Guthrie, and Bill Sutterfield, a candidate for sheriff-collector, sued to stop Mrs. Stephenson from serving as a clerk in the Nov. 8 general election.

Guthrie contended that the state constitution and Amendment 51 (the voter registration amendment) vested in his office the responsibilities for voter registration and custodian of the absentee vote box.

The amendment superceded the 1947 law under which the election commission majority acted, he said.

Circuit Judge Woody Murray of Harrison disagreed, saying that repeal of laws by implications is not usually favored by the courts. He said that the older law had not been superceded by the voter registration law.

Union HD Club Holds Workshop
The Union Extension Homemakers Club held a purse-making workshop Wednesday, October 26, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah B. Hendrix. Nine attended the workshop making eleven purses. The hostess served coffee and cake. Mrs. Johnnie Hendrix reported.

Reds All But Reject Summit Peace Bid

TOKYO (AP) — North Viet Nam today described the Manila summit conference as a war council and stopped just short of officially rejecting the latest allied peace bid to end the Viet Nam war.

"The 'peaceful solution' proposed by the United States at the Manila conference," said Nhan Dan, organ of the North Vietnamese Communist party, "is still more cynical and insolent than the 'conditions' which the United States had earlier put to the Vietnamese people and which had been categorically rejected by the latter."

The official Hanoi newspaper did not refer specifically to the allied offer to withdraw all foreign troops six months after North Viet Nam withdraws its forces and aid from South Viet Nam.

But Peking's New China News Agency called it part of a U.S. "peace talks plot" and a representative of the Viet Cong in Cairo said the Viet Cong "will never accept peace unless it is on our own terms."

Despite the unyielding Communist position, Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos told newsmen in Manila he has begun "initiatives for peace" following the summit conference.

"I cannot reveal them to you," Marcos said. But he acknowledged that "a seven allied nations that met this week in the Philippine capital, discussed which countries might play the role of 'honest broker' in attempting to bring about negotiations with the Communist government in Hanoi."

Manila sources said Indonesia, Japan and India fit the requirements of the allied leaders.

China Student Action Is Protested
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union protested to China today about demonstrations outside the Soviet Embassy in Peking and demanded that they be stopped.

A note given to the Chinese Embassy said the demonstrations were "another deliberate step by the Chinese side aimed at the further aggravation of Soviet-Chinese state relations."

The Soviets made a similar protest Aug. 27 against attacks and demonstrations by the young Red Guards outside the Peking embassy.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said the note pointed out that the entrance to the embassy in Peking has been blocked since last Sunday by demonstrations.

"Matters have reached a point at which some foreign diplomats could not proceed from the Soviet Embassy to their residences in cars with diplomatic numbers on Oct. 23 and had to go back to the embassy grounds from the blocked street," the note said.

Japanese correspondents in Peking reported to Tokyo today that Premier Chou En-lai has issued new directives to halt the massive influx of young Red Guards from the countryside into the capital, because they are creating congestion and overtaxing the city's facilities.

Man Sought in Slaying Gives Up
DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Charles Sides, 34, of Osceola, Ark., turned himself in to authorities here Wednesday in connection with a knife fight in Arkansas Monday in which one man was killed.

Officers said Sides was charged with killing Carl Gress in the fight at Osceola. Gress' wife, Thelma, also was involved in the fight and was hospitalized at Osceola in critical condition.

Peace Is Up to Enemy, Johnson Says

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — "We want to end this war today — we want to end it this hour," President Johnson declared today.

In a report to the United States on his visit to Viet Nam, the President said it is now up to the other side to respond to the peace offer made by the allies at the Manila conference on Viet Nam.

"We must continue to resist the aggression that threatens South Viet Nam" until it ceases, Johnson said, adding that the United States is fighting because "the Communists will unbolt the door to peace only when they are convinced their military campaign cannot succeed."

Johnson recorded his remarks in Manila just before he flew to Thailand on his Asian tour. They were designed as a report by the President and commander in chief to be broadcast nationally in the United States.

The President asked "for the understanding, the support and the prayers of our countrymen" for the GIs serving in Viet Nam.

"Those men have pledged their lives," he said. "As your representative, I pledged that we will not fail them."

The Johnsons are spending the night in a luxurious government guest house in this fishing and resort village 68 miles southeast of Bangkok before starting their official visit Friday afternoon to the country many believe is next on the Communist schedule for Asian conquest.

Johnson, the first U.S. president to visit Thailand, and his wife landed in a drizzle at Sattahip Air Base 40 miles from Bangkok at 1:07 p.m. (2:07 a.m. EDT) following a 2 1/2-hour flight from Manila.

As four Thai fighter planes flew high over the field, the President's party transferred immediately to helicopters for the short flight to Bangkok. Thai Premier Thanom Kittikachorn greeted the Johnsons at Sattahip and accompanied them to the resort. He uses the guest house the Johnsons are occupying as his summer home.

In the village, policemen in jeeps, motorcycles and even Cadillac cars roared through the streets and guards were at all intersections. Most residents, accustomed to similar arrangements for visiting dignitaries, reacted calmly to Johnson's arrival.

Hope Youth Participate in UNICEF
People who feel concern for the world's sick and hungry children will be gratified to know that careful and painstaking preparations are under way for an event which will bring help and hope to millions of them in all parts of the world.

On October 30 and 31, more than 3.5 million American boys and girls in over 13,000 communities will Trick or Treat for UNICEF, collecting life-saving coins for THE Nobel Peace Prize-Winnor United Nations Children's Fund.

Among these boys and girls will be members of Hope church youth groups. The Methodist Youth Fellowship is in charge of organizing the Trick or Treat drive and expects volunteers from youth groups of all denominations to help. They will begin at 1 p.m. Sunday and will collect in all parts of Hope and in Fulton, Bodcaw and Oakhaven.

UNICEF trick-or-treaters will be easily identified by their official orange and black collection carton which bears a silhouette of a mother and child. Even though each carton contains only small coins after a successful afternoon, each of these coins can accomplish a lot.

A penny will buy 6 cups of milk and a nickel will provide penicillin to cure two children of yaws, and a dime can provide antibiotics to save a youngster from a lifetime of blindness due to trachoma. One quarter buys enough BCG vaccine to protect 20 children from tuberculosis.

When they are given to UNICEF, Halloween pennies go a long way.

Hempstead Co. Farm Products Go Over $10 Million for First Time

There are some interesting facts in the new agricultural census said Calvin J. Caldwell, county agent. How many times have you heard people say, "We don't do much farming anymore in this county?"

It's true that farming has changed and I think for the better in this county Mr. Caldwell said.

According to the records this is the first time that the value of Hempstead County farm products sold amounted to more than ten million dollars. The figures released show $10,793,559. This is the only county in the old 3rd congressional district to go over ten million dollars.

Howard is second with $9,231,477, and Nevada third with $8,060,291. These are not net income figures, but it does point up the importance of agriculture to our total economy in this area.

The census shows that the county now has 1395 farms and this compares with 1416 farms in 1959. The average size of farm today is 190.5 acres compared to 181.9 in 1959. More acres of cropland were harvested in 1964 than in 1959, the figures being 35,620 to 31,982 respectively.

These figures do not reveal acres harvested by livestock and timber from farm woodlands the county agent said. Poultry, livestock, forestry, soybeans, dairy, and several commodities, all add to our agricultural economy.

Commercial Satellite Is Orbiting
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A shiny new communications satellite whirled about the earth today and the Comsat Corp. hopes late this week to install it permanently over the Pacific Ocean as the first commercial space communications link between North America and the Far East.

Nicknamed "Lani Bird" by some newsmen, the satellite zipped into orbit Wednesday night from Cape Kennedy, riding aboard a three-stage delta rocket.

Lani, the Hawaiian name for "bird of heaven," is an improved version of Comsat's first satellite, Early Bird, which hovers over the Atlantic, relaying communications between North America and Europe.

Wednesday night's launching was "a textbook exercise," said Dr. Joseph Charyk, president of the Communications Satellite Corp. Comsat paid the National Aeronautics and Space Administration $3.57 million to hoist the satellite.

Preliminary tracking data indicated the payload, made by Hughes Aircraft Corp., was in an initial path ranging from about 200 to 23,000 miles above the earth.

Charyk said refined tracking information today would determine whether Lani Bird's final nesting place would be over the Pacific or the Atlantic.

Experts to Look Into Titan Strike
CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — An Air Force spokesman said in Washington last night that labor relations specialists would look into a strike which started Wednesday at Titan II missile silos near here and near Rosebud.

Members of Local 155 of the Plumbers and Steamfitters Union began picketing a site north of Conway and one in northwest White County, where the Peter Kiewit Sons Co. of Omaha, Neb., is doing modification work.

The union charged that safety measures recommended after the Titan II disaster which took the lives of 53 civilian workmen last year were not being followed.

The Kelwit firm is ignoring a recommendation that no steamfitter work alone on any level of the silo, the union charged. It also said the firm had reduced the recommended number of men required to do the modification work.

Wayne Lay, business agent of the local, is the father of one of the two men who escaped the Aug. 9, 1965, tragedy at a silo northwest of Searcy.

U. S. Ambush Kills 15 Civilians

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U. S. ambush patrol opened fire on a group of Vietnamese civilians they mistook for Viet Cong today and killed or wounded 15, including women and children.

A U. S. spokesman said eight civilians were killed and seven were wounded in the mistaken ambush before dawn eight miles north of Saigon.

The spokesman said a Vietnamese national policeman accompanying the patrol had told the U. S. infantrymen that the group of people were Viet Cong.

The incident occurred during an operation, named Allentown, by a unit of the U. S. 1st Infantry Division.

U. S. B52 bombers made two raids on Viet Cong troops and bases in South Viet Nam during the day. One wave of bombers hammered at an enemy troop concentration 50 miles northwest of Qui Nhon near the central coast. A second wave pounded suspected Viet Cong troop concentrations and a headquarters area in war zone C, 75 miles northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian frontier.

U. S. forces reported killing 42 Communist troops in a series of small-scale skirmishes Wednesday ranging from close to Saigon north to the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

Vietnamese military headquarters reported that South Vietnamese troops suffered their highest casualties this year last week. A spokesman said 1,062 South Vietnamese soldiers were killed or wounded compared with 693 casualties the previous week.

American casualties dropped last week to 64 killed and 396 wounded, compared with 74 killed and 432 wounded the previous week. Enemy dead increased, from 1,068 to 1,229.

The weather over the Gulf of Tonkin cleared Wednesday, but it was bad again over North Viet Nam, and U. S. pilots flew only 75 bombing missions against the Communist North, about half the usual daily number.

The raids also were reduced by the fire which swept the carrier Oriskany and took the 42,000-ton flattop out of action. The Oriskany sailed under her own power today for repairs in the Philippines while the carrier Coral Sea steamed to take her place with the fleet pressing the air war against North Viet Nam.

College to Train Police in Problems
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police will learn about the problems of residents in low-income areas and such residents will learn about police problems in a project planned by Ohio State University.

Columbus Community Relations Director Walter R. Tarpoley said the program hopefully would help bring about understanding between the two groups.

A group of Columbus residents will be invited to attend classes next month on police duties and responsibilities, as well as poverty problems and racial prejudice.

A group of policemen will attend classes dealing with "inner city" problems in housing, employment and education.

Sex Education Is Proposed
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Physicians dealing with venereal disease control have concluded that the main step to eradicating venereal diseases is sex education in the schools. Dr. Edgar J. Easley of Little Rock said Wednesday.

Easley, assistant state health officer, said neither parents nor pastors can properly teach sex education.

Eighty per cent of Arkansas venereal disease victims are 14 to 24 years old and the state ranks third from the top in the nation in the rate of gonorrhea incidence, 20th in the incidence of primary and secondary syphilis, he said.
